DENVER, COLORADO –Entanglements explores our connections to the natural world. Through a variety of lenses, artists in this exhibition negotiate and engage with the environment, illustrating the complex relationships humans have to nature and its resources. These artists employ diverse approaches and intentions, bringing awareness to the current state of our environment to inspire action, giving discarded remains new life, or exploring regenerative capabilities of ecosystems. Artists include: Persijn Broersen & Margit Lukács, Dornith Doherty, Felicity Hammond, Jana Hartmann, Amy Hoagland, Marcella Kwe, Regan Rosburg, Anastasia Samoylova, Sarah Sense, and Alicja Wróblewska. Entanglements is curated by Cecily Cullen and Natascha Seideneck. The exhibition will run during Denver’s Month of Photography (March 2023) during which art venues throughout the region celebrate the medium of photography in its many forms and iterations.
