

JAMES LUMSDEN
An Rubha | The Point Series
January 26 - June 9, 2024

Artist Talk: Thursday 25 April, 6:30- 8pm.

Working between Edinburgh and Point (An Rubha) on the Isle of Lewis, travelling across the Minch on a regular basis to work, this exhibition, An Rubha presents new and recent work from the Lewis studio. The work resonates with the creation of a sense of light, color, depth and feeling. Using a historical glazing process, yet utilizing acrylic paint and mediums, the artist builds multiple thin layers of translucent color; layer upon layer, glaze upon mark upon glaze - concealing, revealing, action, reaction, until a sense of light and depth is achieved within the process.

"Each painting is imbued with an internal light. Not a depiction of light but the search for a sense of light emanating from within the painting. I want to see something brought to life, struggled for, with a sense of having its own history, and reflective of the time spent on its creation'." James Lumsden

Join us for a 45 minute informal tour of the exhibition, meet the artist, and Q&A on Thursday, April 25th. Attendance is free but spaces are limited. Please book your place by emailing burgh.halls@westlothian.gov.uk

Dating back to 1670, Linlithgow Burgh Halls is a unique landmark building at the heart of the historic town. Celebrating the rich heritage of Linlithgow and the surrounding area, today it is a modern multi-functional venue; visitor attraction, art gallery, hireable space, café and much more.

Linlithgow Burgh Halls
Linlithgow EH49 7AH
United Kingdom

<https://www.linlithgowburghhalls.co.uk/article/72521/Exhibitions>

Image: Point Series Strata (8.22), 35 x 35cm - James Lumsden

